COPYRIGHT AND RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted materials. The various state privacy acts govern the use of materials that document private individuals, groups, and corporations.

Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a reproduction if the document does not infringe the privacy rights of an individual, group, or corporation. These specified conditions of authorized use include:

- non-commercial and non-profit study, scholarship, or research, or teaching
- criticism, commentary, or news reporting
- as a NPS preservation or security copy
- as a research copy for deposit in another institution

If a user later uses a copy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use," the user may be personally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement. This institution's permission to obtain a photographic, xerographic, digital, or other copy of a document doesn't indicate permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, sell, distribute, or prepare derivative works from this document without first obtaining permission from the copyright holder and from any private individual, group, or corporation shown or otherwise recorded.

Permission to publish, exhibit, perform, reproduce, prepare derivative works from, sell, or otherwise distribute the item must be obtained by the user separately in writing from the holder of the original copyright (or if the creator is dead from his/her heirs) as well as from any individual(s), groups, or corporations whose name, image, recorded words, or private information (e.g., employment information) may be reproduced in the source material. The holder of the original copyright isn't necessarily the National Park Service. The National Park Service is not legally liable for copyright, privacy, or publicity infringement when materials are wrongfully used after being provided to researchers for "fair use."

This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if fulfillment of the order is judged in violation of copyright or federal or state privacy or publicity law.

HISTORY

OLD TIMERS REUNION COLLECTION

Chaco Culture National Historical Park held an old timers' reunion at the Park from October 5th through October 7th, 1990. The reunion was to "honor all personnel involved with Chaco Canyon National Monument during the last sixty years such as ruins stabilization crews, maintenance employees, archaeologists, traders, Civilian Conservation Corp., and National Park Service personnel." One of the activities which took place at the reunion was the Chaco Canyon Old Timers Reunion Oral History Project. The goal of the Project was to record old timers' recollections of Chaco Canyon in the "early" days. The project was adversely affected by a last minute change in the program agenda, as well as inclement weather and unfavorable site conditions. The Reunion staff also handled the duplication of slides and photographs from the 1950s, in particular the Charles Wyatt slide collection, and the Marjorie Mirabel and Evon Z Vogt photograph collection. These items were on temporary loan to Chaco Canyon National Park during the reunion, and some of the materials were later donated to the park on a permanent basis.

Inclusive Dates: 1936-1940

History: Al Hayes first came to Chaco in 1935 as an errand boy for Edgar L. Hewitt. In 1937-37 he was a student with the UNM field school. He later went on to become a professional archaeologist with a long and distinguished career. From 1971-1975 he was a research archaeologist with the Chaco Center, and oversaw the 100% site survey of Chaco Canyon National Monument from 1972-1975.

Mr. Hayes donated the photographs to the park during the Chaco Old Timer's Reunion in 1990.

Images include sites in the canyon, students, crew, local Navajos, and the living and working quarters of the field school. The photographs have been identified by the done and information written on the reverse side of the image. Many of these descriptions do not correspond to the five elements currently in the series. The original extent was listed as 15, but there is no evidence of any photographs beyond the 3 photo cards and 2 negatives listed in the series.

Title: REUNION CORRESPONDENCE

Summary Notes:

The bulk of the correspondence follows the Reunion, either thanking the organizers for their work on the Reunion, or apologizing for being unable to attend. In some cases, the letters were apparently accompanied by photographs relevant to the Reunion, but they have since been disassociated, perhaps by the recipients, and it is unclear if they have been assimilated into the collection.

The undated letters are the standard form letters and information packets sent out to potential attendees. The information consists of a summary of the reunion and an agenda.
