Introduction

Golden Gate National Recreation Area

Park Description

Golden Gate National Recreation Area (GGNRA), a unit of the National Park Service, was established by an Act of Congress on October 27, 1972. The 80,000-acre park encompasses a great diversity of cultural and natural resources in and around the Bay Area of San Francisco, California. It includes Muir Woods National Monument and Fort Point National Historic Site.

The park holds almost five million three-dimensional and documentary artifacts dating from the time before European contact to the present. They are preserved and maintained for the public by the Division of Cultural Resources and Museum Management, which includes the Park Archives and Records Center (PARC).

Park Archives and Records Center

Historical Note

GGNRA and the sites within it have been collecting records since their inception. The PARC was established in 1994 to receive records and archival collections from the U.S. Army and the Presidio Army Museum after the closure of the Presidio of San Francisco as an Army base. The collections continue to grow through the donation of materials by private individuals, transfer of inactive park records by staff, and acquisition of relevant documentary materials.

Scope of Collections

The archival collections in the custody of the GGNRA document the history and activity of the various sites and groups associated with the park, described in the park's Scope of Collection Statement (2009).

The PARC contains U.S. Army and National Park Service facility records for the Presidio of San Francisco, forts and coast defense sites in the area, and various GGNRA sites. Subjects and sites documented include the United States Army (Bear Flag Revolt, Civil War, Spanish-American War, Mexican War, World War I, Army Air Service, Coast Artillery, Army medical facilities and issues, World War II, Army support during natural disasters, Viet Nam War, and Operation Desert Storm); Alcatraz Island (Army fortress, Army Disciplinary Barracks, U.S. Penitentiary, and Indian Occupation); the natural resources conservation movement resulting in the establishment of Muir Woods National Monument; agriculture in the Marin Headlands; Point Reyes Peninsula and Bolinas Lagoon areas; U.S. Lifesaving/Coast Guard Services; San Francisco Earthquake and Fire of 1906; Panama Pacific International Exposition of 1915; natural resources and environmental issues; and preservation of open space in the Bay Area. Also included in the PARC are many of the GGNRA administrative records that document the development and expansion of this park.

Visiting the PARC for Research

The PARC is located in an historic brick building, formerly a cavalry stable, on the Presidio of San Francisco. Collections and archives support services are available for walk-in research during open hours or by appointment. Please contact the PARC (see below) for the current schedule of reference hours.

Copy Services

Black and white photocopy services for standard and oversize materials are available on-site. Color photocopying, photographic duplication, and duplication of other media are available by special arrangement. Researchers are charged for all duplicates on a cost-recovery basis.

Rights and Publications

Copies are provided under the Fair Use provisions of the Copyright Law (Title 17, U.S.C.). Researchers must complete a Permission to Publish Contract form with the Park Archivist for any other intended use of these materials (such as publication or exhibit). Researchers should consult with staff regarding their needs for commercial or public use of materials.

Legal Status of Holdings

Many holdings of the PARC were acquired/transferred prior to the establishment of the archives program, and have little documentation on their provenance (source/chain of custody). All materials received after 1994 have been accessioned and documented. If provenance cannot be determined, the PARC assumes that it owns the property rights, but does not own the copyright. Staff will provide assistance, but it is the responsibility of the researcher to acquire permission from the copyright holder to cite, quote, or reproduce collection materials.

Collections developed by or for government organizations or operations are in the public domain and may be used, cited, and quoted without restriction, provided they are properly credited to the PARC. The archives contain no national security classified materials.

Donations to the Collections

The PARC welcomes donations of a variety of historic materials that meet the criteria in the Scope of Collections Statement and do not duplicate existing holdings. Collections are maintained for research use in perpetuity; there is no guarantee that items will be exhibited. If you own materials that may be relevant to the themes of GGNRA and would like to deposit them in the PARC, please consult with an archivist.

How to Use This Finding Aid

This document contains information on the contents and significance of an archival collection. It includes descriptive information; repository information; collection history; biographical or historical information on creators of the collection; and a container or folder list of everything in the collection. After reviewing the finding aid, please discuss your specific needs with the archivist who will locate and retrieve the relevant materials.

How to Use the Collections

Please follow all rules and regulations regarding research, the use of the research facility, and the handling of collection materials. This will protect the collections so they continue to be available for generations to come. If anything appears to be out of order or damaged, please notify a staff member.

Provenance

The records were created and maintained by the United States Army and were transferred to the National Park Service (NPS) upon the deactivation of the Presidio of San Francisco (PSF) and the transfer of the Army's property to the NPS in 1994. On September 2, 1994, the National Park Service requested the release of certain records held in the custody of the U.S. Army that concern the facilities and resources the NPS would be managing in place of the Army. These records, with some exceptions, were released and transferred to the National Park Service in accordance with the terms of cooperative agreements, and partially consisted of the materials in this collection. The materials in this collection were transferred to the NPS Park Archives and Records Center at different points in time from 1994 to 2000.

Please see Appendix 1, Army Records Groups Included in the U.S. Army Administrative Records, for more information about the individual provenance of the various Army records groups included in the U.S. Army Administrative Records.

Scope and Content Note

The United States Army Administrative Records date from 1850 to 2000 with bulk dates from 1975 to 1994. The records are organized into nine series: Directorate of Information Management, Directorate of Personnel and Community Activities, Directorate of Public Works (DPW) Administrative Office, DPW Engineer Resources Management Division (ERMD), DPW ERMD Budget Office, DPW Housing Division, Department of Defense Housing Office, Provost Marshall Office, and Headquarters Command Battalion. The nine series are further arranged into forty subseries.

The records relate to many topics including general U.S. Army and Presidio of San Francisco (PSF) administrative functions, regulations, and policy; individual directorate and division management and operations; facility, land, infrastructure, utilities, resource, space, and subinstallation management; housing administration, mobilization and emergency preparedness; health, safety, and security; recreation and community functions; events, briefings, and meetings; general reference and suspense records; budget and funding; audits and inspections; support agreements; Base Realignment and Closure; National Park Service transition and transfer; and the establishment of the Golden Gate National Recreation Area. The records include textual records, photographic media, plans, maps, and blueprints.

Note: Many of the Army records groups included in this collection were surveyed prior to the processing of this collection and some material unrelated to the Golden Gate National Recreation Area's scope was discarded or transferred. In addition, some project-specific records from these records groups were removed and processed with the U.S. Army Project Records, GOGA 37252.

Organization and Arrangement

The U.S. Army Administrative Records are organized into nine series and arranged into forty subseries. Each section is arranged chronologically unless otherwise noted in the Series Description section (starting on page 14).

Overall the records are in good and stable condition. The text files having been working files contain some soiled and worn documents. Some documents have residual rust marks resultant of staples or binder clips that have been removed. Some documents are wavy due to water damage. Some documents and oversize material have adhesive tape attached, some of which is becoming brittle. Some of the photographs are glued and/or taped to paper. Some of the photographs have tape, permanent ink, and ball point pen ink on the front and the back. Photographic slides have handwritten notes in pencil and ink on the slide mount. The oversize material was originally stored folded in the files and therefore have many crease lines, some have rips and tearing along these crease lines. Some of the plans are unreadable in areas due to poor replication.

History

The Army at the Presidio of San Francisco

The U.S. Army was stationed at the Presidio of San Francisco from 1846-1994, the last Army headquarters being the Sixth U.S. Army. The Presidio of San Francisco military reservation at the Golden Gate developed into the most important Army post on the Pacific Coast. Over time its armaments evolved from smooth bore cannons to modern missiles. It became the nerve center of a coastal defense system that eventually included Alcatraz and Angel Island and that reached as far north as the Marin Headlands and as far south as Fort Funston. These lands were all incorporated into the Golden Gate National Recreation Area beginning in 1972. Eventually, there were five distinct posts at the Presidio, each with its own commander: the Main Post, Fort Point, Letterman Hospital, Fort Winfield Scott, and Crissy Army Air Field. Also on the 1,491-acre reservation were a Coast Guard lifesaving station and a U.S. Public Health Service Hospital. The Presidio of San Francisco’s subinstallations included Forts Baker, Barry, Cronkhite, Funston, Mason, and Miley, as well as various U.S. Army Reserve Centers throughout the San Francisco Bay Area.¹

In 1972, the Presidio of San Francisco, then an active installation, was included within the boundaries of the Golden Gate National Recreation Area. In 1989, the Presidio of San Francisco was selected to close as part of the Base Realignment and Closure Act that was designed to close excess military bases. On October 1, 1994, after the post became excess to military needs, it was transferred to the National Park Service.²
