

Captain Daniel Dickinson Redmond

Company D, 15th Infantry

CAPTAIN DANIEL DICKINSON REDMOND 1836-1891

Daniel D. Redmond was in the first group of volunteers for service in the Civil War from Benton County, Indiana. The group went to Camp Tippecanoe at Lafayette, Indiana. There he was inducted into the Army as a Corporal, 14 June 1861 and was assigned to Company D 15th Indiana Infantry.

Co. D, moved by rail from Indianapolis, July 1861 to Cincinnati [sic], and on to Clarksburg, now in West Virginia. The men marched to the Battle of Rich Mountain on 12 July. The Company was moved to Elkwater Valley, West Va. They took part in the battles of Green Brier, Shiloh and Corinth. They then moved to Louisville, Ky. They were at Nashville, Tenn., where General Buell was replaced by Major General Wm. S. Rosecrans.

1 Aug. 1861 Corp. Redmond was promoted to Sergeant, Then to 1st Sergeant on 3 May 1862. On 23 Nov. 1862 he was discharged to accept a Commission as 2nd Lieutenant, by order of Major General Rosecrans.

Lt. Redmond was promoted to 1st Lt. 24 Dec. 1862. Co. D was in battle at Stone River, [sic] Tenn. 31 Dec. 1862 to 2 Jan. 1863. 197 of the 440 men in the Company were lost, including it's [sic] Captain, Richard Templeton. At Murphyboro [sic], Tenn., 28 Feb. 1863 Lt. Redmond was promoted to Captain, Vice. He was mustered as Captain on 10 May 1863, to date from, 8 March 1863.

Co. D. was at Tullahoma, Tenn., 24 June, at Pelham, Tenn [sic] 17 Aug., then on to Chattanooga until 9 Sept. 1863. At Missionary Ridge, the Company lost 202 men of 334.

The survivors were at Knoxville until Feb. 1864, then returned to Chattanooga under General Steadman. The Company remained there until [sic] 6 June, when it was transferred to Indianapolis to be mustered out.

Co. D. 15th Indiana Inf. was transferred [sic] to the 17th until discharged on 8 Aug. 1864.

Cap Redmond, as he was known to his men, held various detached assignments. One was road improvement on the Indianapolis-Lafayette highway. Another, during May 1863 he was on special duty attending a General Courtmartial [sic]. From November

1863 to January 1864 he was on recruiting duty in Indiana. (Per Dep. S. F.O. #302 Hdqtrs [sic], Army of the Cumberland.)

After discharge, 29 June 1864, Cap Redmond returned to Benton County, Indiana where, 10 years later he married Sarah (Sally) Scott, daughter of Samuel S. Scott, on Christmas Day 1874.

Daniel Redmond Obituary

Died.

Monday, March 23d at his residence in this city from Necrosis of the jaw, D. D. Redmond aged 54 years.

Captain Redmond was a native of Binghampton [sic], Broome County, N.Y. and was named for the famous statesman and orator, Daniel S. Dickinson of the same county and state. The breaking out of the war found him a resident of Indiana. One of the first to respond to the call for troops he went out in the 15th Indiana with the rank of lieutenant. At the expiration of his term of service in the 15th he joined the 43d as captain of company D and served until the end of the war.

He came to this county in 1887 settled on a claim near Syracuse, and has resided here since that time. About two years ago he was afflicted [sic] with the loss of his wife and a daughter. Since that time, broken health from service in the war and in spirit from the loss of his closest companion, and friend, his times of life have been hard. With a family of four to support and only a $6 pension as an income, the "old soldier" who periled his life for his country, finally laid it down in an abode of poverty in the arms of want, with only charity to weep at a burial paid for from the funds of the county. So goes the world. Gorgeous obsequies to day from the end of the country to the other over a general whose body lies in state, tomorrow, a soldier in the same war, and the same battles is laid [illegible], sound of drum, or funeral note is heard in the land.

Capt. Redmond's illness was of long and painful duration, but through it all his faithful comrades of the G.A.R. have watched and cared for him, and did for him all that was possible to do He had his faults, he had his virtues. He was a Soldier of the Republic, a Defender of the Flag, and no more patriotic American answers "roll call" on the other side.

DIED. At his residence in this city Monday evening, at 6 o'clock, D. D. Redmond, age 54 years. The deceased had lived here for about four years; had been in poor health for a number of years, and for the last two months was not able to leave his room; he was a member of the G.A.R. Post of this city. His wife died here in Septemer,[sic] 1888 and by his death it leaves four small children three boys and one girl, orphans, the oldest being about 18, the youngest 6 years old, without a home. The citizens will see that they are cared for until a suitable home can be provided for them. They are smart and industrious children.

Sarah Redmond's Obituary

At her home near this city, August 12, after an illness of ten days, Mrs. Sarah Scott Redmond, aged forty years, five months and twenty-seven days.

"She has found the blessed islands, where earth's toils and sorrows cease; She wears the sacred lotus in the Holy Land of peace."

Sarah Scott, was born in Ohio in the year 1848, and was married to Mr. Daniel Redmond, December 25th, 1874. When a young girl she became a member of the M. E. church, and has always lead [sic] a consistent Christian life, devoted to her husband and children she has borne him. How sad it is, not for her, but for them, that she should die and leave them all—the stricken husband and the helpless little ones. How he will miss her counsel and they her all abiding love. Is there balm in Gilead to heal such wounds as these? We can only offer them the sympathy of a heart heavy with the same great grief, and say:

"Speak to them Father from Thy throne above, Whisper some message of tenderest love."

Daniel and Sarah Redmond Marriage Notice

Capt. Redmond, a gentleman of enviable reputation, living in the neighborhood of Parish Grove, well and favorably known to our citizens received his Christmas present on the 25th inst., the hand and heart of a lady of culture and possessor of many charms, the daughter of Samuel Scott. A brief honey-moon is spoken of, terminating, on the return of the bridal pair, with a sumptuous supper, and exchange of fraternal greeting. Our well wishes are with the happy couple, and our desire—their coupling may be thoroughly enjoyable, with many little subscribers for the THE LEADER.

Capt. D. D. Redmond and Miss Sarah Scott were united in the holy bonds of wedlock, by Rev. Mr. Clark, at this residence, on Christmas night. The Capt. and his fair lady have our congratulations.
