

Zion National Park Rock Layers

The rocks at Zion National Park are made up of many colors. The colors seen in the rock layers are shades of red, orange, yellow, gray, white, and brown. Color the rock layers using crayons or colored pencils.

Did You Know... The oldest rocks at Zion National Park are about 270 million years old!